

Books

The Times
November 12, 2005

They're reading . . .

Martin Corry
England expects

"I'm reading Dining with Terrorists by Phil Rees, which takes you into the hearts and minds of various terrorist organisations. It helped to give me an understanding of what's going on in the world. I read a lot of fiction and autobiographies, so this was something my wife bought for me which is a bit different from my usual diet."